Information for Administration of Intravenous Contrast Medium

The investigation you have been referred for may require an injection of x-ray contrast medium. This contrast medium improves the detection of abnormalities in the body and without its use, significant abnormalities may remain undetected.

During injection most patients report a transient feeling of warmth or a metallic taste in the mouth.

However, as with all drugs, side effects and adverse reactions are possible. Minor reactions usually consist of itching and facial swelling. More severe reactions can result in shortness of breath and low blood pressure. It is very rare for reactions to be life threatening, less than one (1) in 100,000. In this Radiology Department, we use the latest contrast media where side effects and adverse reactions are kept to a minimum and our staff are trained to deal with any side effects.

More serious adverse reactions are usually related to an allergy to contrast media.

To reduce the risk of contrast reactions, please answer the following questions:

Have you had an allergic reaction to x-ray contrast media?	YES / NO
Do you have any allergies? eg, medications, bee stings	YES / NO
Do you have eczema or asthma?	YES / NO
Do you have poor kidney function, kidney disease or diabetes?	YES / NO
Are you on any diabetic medications? eg metformin/diabex	YES / NO
Do you take Interleukin-2 or have you taken it in the past 6 months?	YES / NO
Do you take Beta Blockers? (a medication for blood pressure and heart conditions)	YES / NO
Do you have an overactive or underactive thyroid?	YES / NO
Do you have a possible or confirmed thyroid cancer?	YES / NO
Do you take any thyroid medications?	YES / NO
Have you previously received or going to have radioactive iodine treatment?	YES / NO
Do you have Myaesthenia Gravis / Sickle Cell Disease or Phaeochromocytoma?	YES / NO

If you have any concerns, please raise them with a staff member prior to your study.
