

Goldfields

The Goldfields is the largest region in WA. It is bordered by the Pilbara to the north, the Wheatbelt to the west, the Great Southern to the south-west, the Southern Ocean to the south and the WA border to the east.

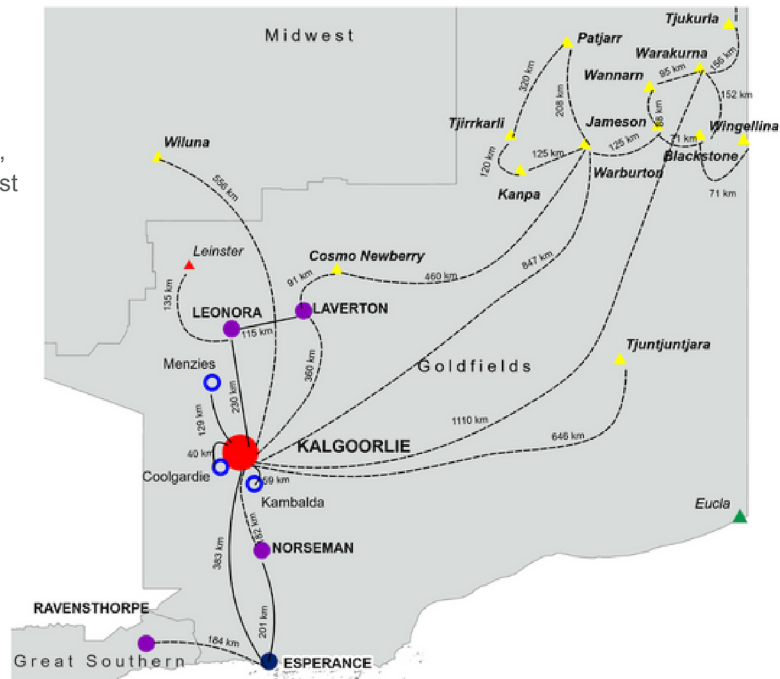

Living and working in the region

The Goldfields region incorporates a network of public hospital facilities supported by a range of community-based services. The majority of health services are based in the main town centres of Kalgoorlie-Boulder and Esperance. The region is also home to a number of Aboriginal Medical Services that are based in Kalgoorlie, Wiluna, the Ngaanyatjarra region, and the Spinifex Lands to the east of Kalgoorlie.

Kalgoorlie Health Campus

Kalgoorlie Health Campus is the regional referral center for the Goldfields region. The facility services a population of over 60,000 people, with an additional and significant transient community. There are 94 multi-day beds available, 18 same day chairs and beds available for Psychiatry.

Kalgoorlie Health Campus supports accredited Intern and Resident Medical Officer positions which provide the required experience, education and support for prevocational doctors who wish to gain rural experience. The campus also offers the Australian Medical Council (AMC) accredited Workplace Based Assessment program (WBA).
